DAVID Scholarship Requirements

The Story

The DAVID SCHOLARSHIP is designed to be awarded for men ages 16-25, who have overcome adversity whether it be by conquering difficult life settings or finding themselves in a situation not unlike the young boy who would be king. Several books of the Old Testament unfold the story of David, the shepherd who picked up five smooth stones to slay a giant. Later, as jealousy and scandal surrounded him, David found himself on the run. But it was here that God shaped him into a man after His own heart. David authored a great number of the words we read today in the Psalms, the songbook of the Bible. As his legacy carried on, his direct lineage leads to the birth of the Messiah, carving a permanent place in history for a young boy who came in from the field simply because his father called him, not knowing what lay ahead.

The ideal candidate for the David Scholarship will be able to articulate how his own life models the poignant story of a warrior heart, sobering humility, and the courage to face his enemies and how he will use the experience to make a lasting contribution to the world around him. While it is not a pre-requisite, any student seeking education in music or the arts will receive special consideration for the David scholarship.
